

Darryl Clack: The former Widefield High School All-State and Prep All-America football and track & field star became Arizona State's 6th leading rusher in history with 2,737 yards and 21 touchdowns from 1982-85. He became the first freshman to lead the Devils in rushing in 30 years in 1983. He was drafted in the 2nd round of the 1986 NFL draft by the Dallas Cowboys and played for four seasons in the league as a tailback and kick returner. He also played in the Canadian Football League and the World League of American Football at the end of his NFL stint. He won All-PAC 10 honors in 1984 and was named the ASU football MVP when he rushed for 1,052 yards. He was ASU's MVP in that 1984 campaign and his 221 yards against Wichita State in 1983 still stands as the school's 7th all-time rushing best. A fractured right leg in his senior season ended his chance to become the school's career rushing leader. At Widefield High School, he was the state AAA champion in the 100, 200 and 400-meters for three consecutive years and set state records in each as a senior (10.65, 21.22, 47.95). Clack's state marks in the 100 and 200 stood for 23 years before being broken. His Widefield track teams also won three straight state titles during his career on the cinders. He was tabbed as the Colorado Prep Athlete of the Year in 1982 and was inducted into the Colorado High School Hall of Fame in 1993.
